

Magellan employees support an ‘incredible’ evening at the Miracle League of the Lehigh Valley

The Miracle League of the Lehigh Valley hosted trick-or-treating at Miracle League Park in Schnecksville, PA on Oct. 24. Magellan participated for the 10th consecutive year as a supporter of the annual event for children who have special needs. Thalia Schmidt, quality specialist, led Magellan employees in creating a booth with the theme of everybody’s favorite superhero family, the Incredibles. Edna (aka Kristen Scalise) and her helpers (Danielle Dolena and Thalia Schmidt) greeted all visitors to ensure they had their ‘super suit.’ The Magellan booth was decorated with the faces of all the Parrs: Bob, Helen, Violet, Dash and even baby Jack Jack. Trick-or-treaters were even invited to complete a challenge of placing a mask on baby Jack Jack.

About 300 trick-or-treaters and their families stopped by the Incredibles themed booth, which included Mr. Incredible himself (aka Joseph Scalise, Kristen’s son). And, no trick-or-treating event is complete without a visit from a princess, or in this case, Princess Anna (Lily Dolena, Danielle’s daughter). In fact, it was rumored that she borrowed some of her sister Elsa’s power, because it sure was a cold night... brrrrr! But, that didn’t deter the children from coming out to have a great time. There were about 40 trick-or-treat vendors ranging from local schools, law offices, state representatives, physician offices, medical services and network providers.
